Description

It was in my third year of medical school when I had my first dream in English. The context of that dream has been lost in time, though what is clear is the moment I woke up, I knew a significant milestone in my journey had passed. I have been a native Spanish speaker all my life, and to be honest, I never thought I would be able to slay the dragon that is the English language.

Responsibilities :Overseeing and coordinating teams of surgeons and nurses in the operating theater.

Operating microscopes for surgeries to perform microsurgeries.

Ordering, performing, and interpreting results of diagnostic tests, such as MRIs, PET scans, and CT scans.

Assessing and diagnosing patients, prescribing treatments, and monitoring the patient's progress.#J-18808-Ljbffr
