We are looking for a creative, cooperative chemical engineer with a wealth of technical and industry knowledge and a talent for process optimization. The chemical engineer will work in the office and on location to implement, analyze, and improve processes, equipment, and plants. You will also work with other engineers and team members from diverse backgrounds to understand project goals, design and propose solutions, and assist in implementing, troubleshooting, and reviewing plans as projects progress.

Responsibilities:

Using scientific, mathematical, and engineering principles to solve problems and improve processes.

Designing, proposing, implementing, reviewing, and correcting plans to ensure company goals are achieved.

Observing production processes, conducting research, and finding ways to increase efficiency and quality.

Using computers to compile and analyze data.

Establishing safety and waste management procedures.
