Description:

Forget about ad-hoc problem solving and messy datasets. Trilogy has developed well-established frameworks and data structures that enable you to focus on generating world class dashboards, models, and reports, not cleaning up data. In this role, you will evaluate different data strategies and support decisions with quality data, delivering business value every day.

Responsibilities:

Building financial dashboards and models that drive Trilogy's most important decisions

Publishing professional reports that will be used by the company's top executives

Analyzing data and generating insights that are focused on solving high-leverage business problems

Requirements:

Expertise in QuickSight and NetSuite (not just basic proficiency)

Experience building financial dashboards and models for senior executives

At least 5 years of professional data modeling experience
