As a Lead Regional Product Engineer you will be coordinating a small team of engineers in the Modernizations and Upgrades group for centrifugal compressors in the Middle East. You start each day by reviewing the pipeline of projects with the team and making sure these are distributed according to priority; and afterwards you move onto the development of your own assigned projects, designing turbo-compressor solutions that will impact positively the customer operations, while protecting and modernizing our fleet. You have a collaborative spirit, are open minded, and consistently look for new and efficient ways to develop solutions that are competitive technically and commercially in the market.
