Mobile Dev Specialist Jobs In Dubai 2022 | Project Brains

Description:

We are Project Brains, a start-up changing how ambitious businesses engage with passionate specialists to solve business challenges. We are doing away with job descriptions and keyword matching, as we think these rarely do justice to the eventual outcome or objective. Our client today are a startup in peer-to-peer marketplace space. Their model is bringing a social and community aspect to peer-to-peer e-commerce. They need a fractional specialist to help their CTO and CEO achieve the next set of mobile app development goals. They need someone with experience with iOS/ Android development, an eye for UI design and strong customer empathy. Experience of collaboration with a remote, international team from different backgrounds would be optimal. Also strong communication and leadership qualities would be great – ideally someone who can grow with the company to become the Dev Lead. With Project Brains, you will work with some of the most exciting, fast-growth investors and start-ups in Europe. We would be an ideal fit for someone looking for an interim or part-time role in parallel to higher education, work, family or other commitments. Very keen to work with Ukrainians for this role as part of our social responsibility.
