Company: Halian

Location: Dubai

Category: healthcare-practitioners-and-technical

Position: Oracle NetSuite Analyst

We're currently seeking an Oracle NetSuite Analyst to join a family-run business based in Dubai. This pivotal role involves optimizing, customizing, and integrating NetSuite to align with the organization's evolving requirements.

Overview:

We're currently seeking a qualified Oracle NetSuite Analyst to join our clients team at a family-run business based in Dubai. This role requires a minimum of 3 years of NetSuite experience, proficiency in SuiteScript, excellent communication skills, and a technical background. Moreover, the ideal candidate should be comfortable engaging with users and delivering training sessions.

Responsibilities:

Assess business requirements and propose tailored NetSuite configurations or customizations.

Analyze intricate business processes to pinpoint inefficiencies and recommend effective solutions.

Develop integration strategies to facilitate smooth data exchange between NetSuite and external systems.

Evaluate system capabilities and constraints to devise innovative solutions for business challenges.

Identify opportunities for process enhancements to boost efficiency.

Harness analytical tools within NetSuite to derive valuable insights from data.

Interpret data trends and patterns to furnish actionable recommendations for informed decision-making.

Collaborate with external platform providers to comprehend APIs and integration capabilities.

Execute data mapping and transformation strategies to ensure seamless interoperability between systems.

Conduct routine reviews of integrated systems to enhance performance and reliability.

Implement improvements based on feedback and evolving business requirements.

Provide training to staff members to foster proficiency in NetSuite utilization.

This role demands a proactive individual with a keen eye for detail and a passion for driving operational excellence through innovative solutions. If you meet the specified qualifications and are eager to contribute to the growth of a dynamic business, we'd love to hear from you.

Please only apply if you are currently based in the UAE, or actively looking to relocate in the next month.

If you believe your skill set aligns with the requirements outlined above, we encourage you to apply for the position.
