Joining a full-time analyst program with AIG is a great way to enhance your business acumen and gain insight into our industry. As part of our full-time program, you will work within a business function, gaining a broad exposure to your particular area of interest. The program is an exclusive and competitive track for graduates from all degree disciplines. The program is truly global in nature including the initial training program, during which time all new hires convene in a central location at the start of the program. Our new hires will have an experience that will truly accelerate their careers. As part of the full-time analyst program, you will work on projects and assignments that have a meaningful business impact across AIG and across geographic borders. There is access to senior executives, early recognition for achievement and the opportunity for steadily increasing responsibility. As an underwriter at AIG, you will help set the bar for the rest of the Property-Casualty insurance industry. Our underwriters develop insurance solutions that address the exposures of companies and individuals, and embody AIG's tradition of innovation, bringing to market groundbreaking insurance solutions for our changing world. Our underwriters help find insurance solutions for risks from a range of areas, including: aviation, "green" risks, catastrophic events, high net worth individuals and boardroom liabilities. In addition to the experience acquired on the job, new hires also participate in global training to integrate you into the culture of AIG. You will receive detailed performance feedback and will experience invaluable networking opportunities with both junior and senior level AIG employees across multiple divisions. Considerable emphasis is also placed on training and development to help build both soft and technical business skills. - Minimum grade point average of 3.2- Graduation date
