The Role

We are looking for an experienced designer in our back office that covers a few teams. First one is an internal support platform which aims to streamline support agents workflow, impact and enhance the quality of customer experience. Another one is our back office and administrative services. While these teams are not directly involved in selling products or services to customers, they are crucial for maintaining the infrastructure and efficiency of the organization.

You'll be working in a dynamic, rapidly evolving environment with the following responsibilities:

Influence the shape of the product with research and data while executing design work using high-quality wireframes, mockups, user journeys, and cross-platform interactive prototypes.

Work closely with designers, product managers, developers, and other stakeholders to ensure designs are feasible and implemented correctly. Run and participate in design reviews and provide constructive feedback.

Be the mastermind for your design team and mentor your team mates.

Collaborate with the User Research team to learn how users interact with products and services firsthand.

Create a unified, end-to-end experience through close collaboration with team members from across the product and brand design teams.

Participate in design demos and share your work regularly with the product and company leadership.

Understand the array of technical constraints, user goals, and business requirements that shape a modern product.

Key Responsibilities

You have a portfolio that demonstrates a track record of crafting and delivering digital B2B products that align customer needs with company objectives. A background in fintech / banking / payment solutions is a huge plus.

You always think in systems and are able to recognize, extrapolate and extend shared patterns and behaviors. You believe the project structure and internal logic is as important (if not more), as the visual outcome.

You are highly proficient in both storytelling and craftsmanship, feel comfortable working on both broad concepts and quick tactical tasks.

You have excellent UI skills and an eye for detail.

You are data driven and are keen on testing and iterating your work.

You are experienced in designing for multiple platforms (Web Desktop & Mobile, iOS + Android).

You have experience conducting user research, participating in customer conversations, script development, and other research activities.

You know Figma inside and out and enjoy exploring new ways of improving your design workflow.

You are fluent in English, have great communication skills and are able to clearly articulate your vision and decision-making process while working within a highly collaborative, cross-functional team.
