This large Asset Manager, based in the Emirates, has a strong commitment to leveraging market innovations in technology and data to deliver high-quality returns. They now seek a Snr Quant Researcher, to play a pivotal role in their peer review and testing team. Leveraging your expertise in systematic investing, signal construction, long/short portfolio management, machine learning, financial econometrics, or derivatives pricing, you will rigorously test strategies and researcher's hypotheses. You'll excel in crafting compelling narratives from experiments, conveying the insights derived from your research to both technical and non-technical stakeholders.
