Are you a skilled Steel Welder with a passion for the marine industry? We are actively seeking a dedicated professional to join our team in the United Kingdom.

Key Responsibilities:

- Blueprint Interpretation: Read and interpret engineering drawings, blueprints, and technical specifications specific to marine structures and vessels.
- Material Preparation: Select and prepare the appropriate types and sizes of marine-grade steel for welding based on project specifications.
- Welding Operations: Perform welding and cutting operations using various processes such as MIG, TIG, and ARC, ensuring precision and adherence to marine welding codes and standards.
- Marine Fabrication: Assemble and fabricate steel components and structures for marine applications, including hulls, decks, and other critical vessel components.
- Quality Assurance: Conduct rigorous inspections of welded joints to ensure they meet stringent quality standards and comply with marine industry regulations.
- Collaboration: Work closely with marine engineers, project managers, and other team members to coordinate welding activities, address technical challenges, and ensure project timelines are met.

- Safety Compliance: Adhere to strict safety protocols and guidelines to maintain a secure working environment, preventing accidents during marine welding operations.

Qualifications:

- Proven experience as a Steel Welder with a focus on marine applications.
- Proficient in reading and interpreting engineering drawings and blueprints specific to marine structures.
- Expertise in various welding processes such as MIG, TIG, and ARC, with a keen understanding of marine welding codes and standards.
- Strong fabrication skills for assembling and shaping marine-grade steel structures.
- In-depth knowledge of marine welding regulations and industry best practices.
- Ability to collaborate effectively within a marine construction team.
- Attention to detail and commitment to maintaining the highest standards of marine welding craftsmanship.

If you're ready to bring your marine welding expertise to our dynamic team and contribute to the construction of maritime vessels, we want to hear from you!
