Telco Cloud Field Engineer Jobs In Dubai | Canonical

About the job

The telco industry is moving to software-defined services. This transformation is driven by open source software, cloud computing and the move to VNF / CNF approaches. Canonical Ubuntu is a key platform for telco innovation, and we are growing our team of specialists who work in the industry to accelerate the change. Canonical enables operators and communications service providers to embrace this new world, with a focus on platforms such as Ubuntu, OpenStack, and Kubernetes, and reusable, high quality automation for operations at scale.

Requirement

Python software development experience

A thorough understanding of the telco NFVi (VIM), NFVO, VNFM and MEC space

Technical understanding of key telco technologies like CPU Pinning, NUMA, SRIOV, DPDK, etc

A thorough working understanding of the architectures and infrastructure of MNOs and CSPs

Working knowledge of Mobile Packet Core, Radio, VAS, OSS/BSS

Understanding of best practices for open source technology in telco virtualisation

Working knowledge of Linux, Openstack and Kubernetes networking

A passion to automate and improve all aspects of open source products and tooling
